2. 1901: The Testament of Jesus (harmony of the 4 Gospels expanded by quotations from the OT), Edward V. Kenealy:

22 Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as the Father hath sent me, even so I send you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen. 23 And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and said unto them, Receive ye the Holy Spirit. All power is given unto me from heaven over earth : go ye therefore, and teach all nations. 24

4. 1916: The Gospel of Jesus Critically Reconstructed from the Earliest Sources, Clayton Raymond Bowen:

Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them in my name; teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you; and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world.

NOTES:

... and the baptism “into name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit” replaces in our manuscripts an original baptism “in my name.”

to the conclusion.*

⁴ Because the translators of the Gospels only work only with the GNT text, it has remained hidden from them that Mt 28,19 and Mk 16,15 are two versions of the same word of the Lord. | Apart from a rearrangement of the text, the Markan rendering is sufficiently correct. In contrast, the Matthean version contains a significant addition; namely the part of the text that is missing in the Mark text: ›baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the holy Spirit‹. | This insertion corresponds to Mk 16,16 (GNT): ›He who has believed and has been baptized will be saved, but he who has not believed will be condemned.‹ This fact supports the conclusion that the underlined text is an addition. In addition, this addition can in no way be original. ›Teach all nations, baptizing them = by baptizing them...‹ is logically impossible. And the formulaic expression of this insertion is linguistically impossible. It suits the Greek-speaking church, but not the Aramaic-speaking Jesus. Above all, it can be ruled out with certainty that the restored one spoke of himself as the Son. | According to the previous revision, the sole cause of the whole dilemma surrounding Matthew 28,19.20a (and of all the evils arising from it throughout the history of the Church!) was the fact that an early editor of the text illegally inserted the Trinitarian formula ›in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit‹ into his original text – in order to be able to support the dogma of the Trinity with the words of the Lord.

13. 2001: *The Holy Apostolic New Testament Version 2000 (revision of KJV), Jorge Cardenas (Ed.):

28:19 Go therefore and make disciples of all the nations, immersing them in my name.‡

28:20 Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen. (cursive in original)

‡ Quotation from Eusebian works.

Eusebius of Caesarea (263–339 C.E.) was an early church Historian who in the years 300-338 C.E. about 18 times quoted Matthew 28:19 using the phrase “in my name.” (cf. Mrk 16:17, Lke 24:47, Jhn 20:31, Act 2:38, Col 3:17)

After many years of studying this issue, we are fully convinced that the Eusebian quotation is correct, for (1) it conforms to textual consistency, (2) early apostolic tradition and (3) this is a linguistic phrase frequently used by Yeshua Mashiach.

However, the traditional phrase “in the name of the Father and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit” does not appear in any other place of the New Testament or early post-apostolic writings, for it is without a doubt a later creation.

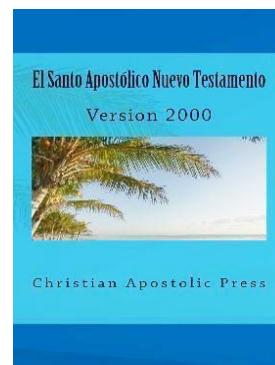

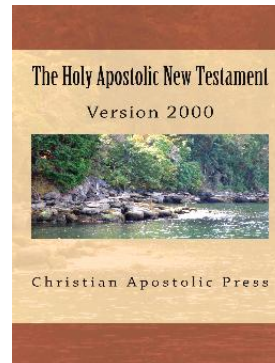

Our conclusion is supported by many authoritative sources, such as The New Schaff-Herzog Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge (Vol. 1, 1951, Art. “Baptism” [P. Feine], p. 1027, 1028): “Jesus, however, can not have given his disciples this Trinitarian order of baptism after his resurrection; for the New Testament knows only baptism in the name of Jesus (Acts ii, 38; viii, 16; xix, 5; Gal. iii, 27; Rom. vi, 3; I Cor. i, 13-15), which still occurs even in the second and third centuries It is unthinkable that the Apostolic Church thus disobeyed the ex-press command of the Lord Finally, the distinctly liturgical character of the formula Matt. xxviii, 19 is strange; it was not the way of Jesus to make such formulas. . . . the formal authenticity of Matt. xxviii, 19 must be disputed.”

Professor of New Testament Exegesis at the University of Berlin (Germany).

{19} “Go, and make students in all nations*.”

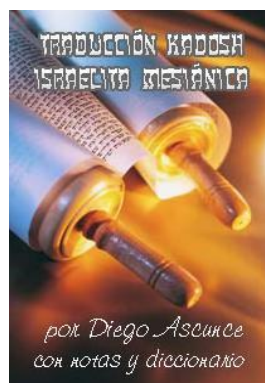

502 “immersing them in the name of the Father, and of the son, and of the restricted wind; {20} teaching them to observe all things that I have commanded you; and, yes, I am with you all the days, even to the end of the age. Let it be so.” did not appear in either the oldest manuscripts, the Syrian texts, or the writings of Eusebius, who quotes it eighteen times. Also, the apostles never obeyed it, but baptized only in the name of Redeemer Anointed (Acts 2:38; Acts 8:16; Acts 10:48; Acts 19:5).

¹⁸⁷ La lectura original no tenía un tono “trinitario” añadido después. Puesto que en Su Nombre está el Nombre de ABBA, pues es YAHWEH Salva, esta es la lectura correcta.

¹⁹ “Therefore go and make talmidim of the people of all the nations, giving them the immersion in my Name.^[187] ²⁰ And teach them to obey everything I have commanded them! I will be with you, yes, until the end of the era.” (trans. by J. Cardenas)

¹⁸⁷ The original reading did not have the “trinitarian” slant that was added later. Because in his name is the Name of ABBA, because it is YAHWEH Saves, this is the correct reading.”

~ GLOSSARY ~

Matthew 28:19 in the Greek text contains a reference to Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. There is considerable evidence that this phrase was added at the Nicean Council in 325 AD. Several early Christian theologians, who had seen the complete book of Matthew, attested that the early copies of Matthew did not contain the phrase. (...) (Ed. 4, p. 507, 508).

19. 2004: El Código Real. El Nuevo Testamento Versión. Textual Hebraica Traducción realizada de los manuscritos hebreos y arameos más antiguos a la luz del pensamiento hebraico del primer siglo, rabbi Prof. Daniel ben Avraham Hayyim, Spanish:

19 “Id con urgencia y hacedme tantos talmidim como podáis entre todas las naciones.”*

19 “Go with urgency and make disciples as you can among all the nations.” (trans. by J. Cardenas)

* El texto hebraico termina aquí. Del resto, tenemos hasta ahora dos versiones. Una que dice “... y aseguraos que hagan tevilah a fin de introducirlos en el conocimiento del Padre, del Mashiaj y del Espíritu que santifica. Asegúrense de enseñarles a guardar todas las cosas que os mandé; y he aquí que yo estoy con vosotros todos los días, hasta el fin de esta edad presente” y otra, citada por Eusebio en el cuarto siglo que dice: “y aseguraos que sean sumergidos en agua en mi nombre”. El hecho que todos los casos que presentan inmersiones en agua en Crónicas de los Apóstoles nunca usan la fórmula bautismal “En el nombre del Padre y del Hijo y del Espíritu Santo”, sino solamente, “en el nombre de Yeshua”, es decir, por su autoridad, indica que el texto hebraico no conoció de tal fórmula, pues de lo contrario, ¿cómo se hubiesen atrevido los apóstoles a desobedecer las instrucciones del Mashiaj? En cada documentación histórica sobre el particular, solamente se usa el nombre de Yeshua como la fuente de la autoridad sobre la que se imparte la purificación en agua a los que regresaban a la fe hebrea o a los gentiles que hacia su conversión. Vea Crónicas de los Apóstoles (Hechos) 2:38; 8:16; 10:48; 19:5. Por su parte, el uso del singular que hace Pablo del término en 1 Corintios 1:13 revela la costumbre de hacerlo en armonía con Crónicas de los Apóstoles. Esto será considerado nuevamente en la versión comentada.

25. 2006 (November): The Pre-Nicene New Testament: Fifty-four Formative Texts (Ed. 1), Robert M. Price:

“¹⁹Therefore, journey forth, train all the gentiles as disciples, baptizing them in my name, ²⁰teaching them to observe all the commandments I gave you; and behold, I myself am with you all the days until the culmination of the age.”

* Eusebius tells us he saw copies of Matthew pre-dating the Council of Nicea that had “in my name” rather than the now-familiar trinitarian “in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit.” It is hard to resist the inference that a Nicene baptism formula, reflecting the newly minted doctrine of the trinity, was inserted into the text from that time on.

Anderson New Testament (begun in 1861), The Dead Sea Scrolls, The Aramaic Peshitta, and The Nestlé-Aland 26 Greek Text: For Readers of the English Language, Jackson H. Snyder, USA:

19 “So going on your way,^[308] instruct kol ‘edah of shemi,^[309] 20 teaching them to observe all I commanded you; then they will enumah^[310] in me.”^[311]
The end.^[312]

^[308] πορευθέντες οὖν = So going on.

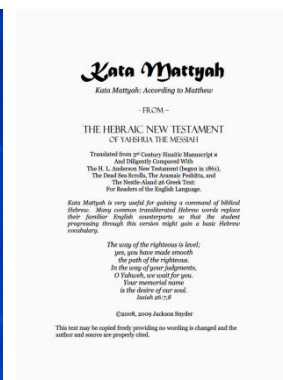

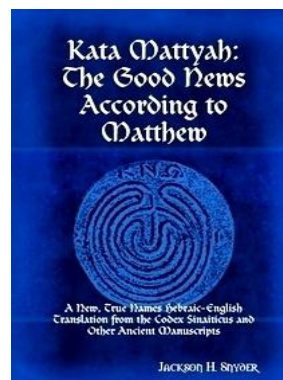

^[309] kol ‘edah = all tribes. shem, shemi = name, my name. His name is Yahshua, Yahweh saves. enumah = faith, belief, or believe.

^[310] shem, shemi = name, my name. His name is Yahshua, Yahweh saves.

^[311] The “old” Aramaic version of Aphraates (circa 340), ends Mattyah in this way.

^[312] “dunking them in the name of the Father, the Son, and the Ruach haKodesh” – This ending is disputed by many (most) scholars. Several possible earlier witnesses lack the Trinitarian formula. Historian and commentator Eusebius Pamphilus (circa 310), who quoted Mattyah 28:19 eighteen times, did not betray in his volumes that he knew the Trinitarian formula. (Eusebius was a trinitarian!) He quotes the ending of Mattyah in the following form:

19 So going on, instruct all tribes in my name, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you. And hinneh! I am with you every day to the consummation of the age!

19 Go ye therefore and make disciples of all the nations in my name,^N

20 Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you. And lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the age.

28:19 Although all extant manuscripts contain the phrase, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit, earlier writings by the historian Eusebius of Caesarea suggest that this phrase is not original, but was added later to the text. Eusebius records Jesus as saying, "Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all nations in my name."

Eusebius (270-340 A.D.), who had access according to Jerome to the earliest, if not the actual manuscript of Matthew's gospel, quotes Matthew 28:19 a minimum of 18 times in his writings dating between 300 and 325 A.D.. In every occurrence, the verse is written with no mention of baptism or the trine name, but that disciples should be made in my name.

This is in perfect agreement with Luke's account of the same event, which records Jesus as saying "that repentance, and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations..." (24:47). Also to be considered is the fact that the Apostles never baptized using these words, but rather invoked the "only name under heaven, given among men, whereby we must be saved" (Acts 4:12). See also Acts 2:38, 8:16, 10:48, 19:5.

19 “Go!^{1} 20 Teach all nations to carry out all the things that I have commanded you – forever.” According to Mattityahu [[Amen]]

{Mt. 28:19.1} The KJV and late Greek manuscripts add the phrase “baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit.” Eusebius in his Oration in praise of the Emperor Constantine chapter XVI, quoted this passage from Matthew (and did so another 18 times in his fourth century writings), “Go and make disciples of all the nations in my name, teaching them to keep all things which I have commanded you.” The Ancient Hebrew Matthew provides a reading very close to the early manuscript Eusebius quoted, which reads, “Go and teach them carry out all the things that I have commanded you – forever.” Those who had actually heard the instructions of Yeshua never baptized in the phrase (in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit) nor is there any record of any historical group actually following this supposed instruction by speaking the actual name of the Father, and the name of the Son, and name of the Holy Spirit as a part of any baptism ceremony. Both this phrase and the addition of the word “Amen” at the end of each Gospel appear to be post-Constantinian inventions.

19 “Go therefore and teach all the nations, baptizing them in my name*, 20 and teaching them to keep all the things which I have commanded you. And, look, I am with you always, even to the end of the world. Amen.”

28,19 Ovaj Isusov nalog po svemu sudeći je prepravljen u „krsteći ih u ime Oca i Sina i Svetog Duha” negde u vreme cara Konstatina, kada je uvedena trinitistička (vavilonska) nauka o Bogu, koja je postala imperativ u tradicionalnom hrišćanstvu. Novi Zavet poznaje samo krštenje u Isusovo ime (vidi Dela 2,38; 8,16; 19,5; Galatima 3,27; Rimljanima 6,3; 1. Korinćanima 1,13-15) za oproštenje greha, opravdanje verom u Mesiju – Spasitelja i primanje dara Svetog Duha, dok je Jovanovo krštenje (tačnije obredno kupanje) bilo krštenje pokajanja.

¹⁹ “Therefore, go and make disciples of all the nations in my name,^{*} ²⁰ teaching them to obey all that I commanded you. And remember! I am with you always, even to the end of the Age.”

* This is similar to the reading of the Shem Tov Hebrew manuscript and the Greek manuscript Eusebius quoted before the Council of Nicaea. The traditional reading is: “Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit” (ESV).

19 Portanto ide, fazei talmidim (תלמידים-discípulos) de todas as nações, realizando-lhes tevilah (imersão) em Meu Nome (Em O Nome do Messias Yahushua);
20 ensinando-os a observar todas as coisas que eu vos tenho mandado; e eis que eu estou convosco todos os dias, até a consumação dos séculos.

19 Therefore go, make talmidim (תלמידים-disciples) from all nations, doing tevilah (immersion) in My Name (In The Name of Messiah Yahushua);
20 teaching them to observe all the things that I ordered you; and, behold, I am with you every day, until the consummation of the age.

99. 2021: Escrituras Sagradas, com os Nomes Sagrados Yauh e Yausha, anonymous editors, Portuguese:

19 "Portanto, vão e façam discípulos de todas as nações, imergindo-os em meu nome.
20 ensinando-os a obedecer a tudo o que eu lhes ordenei. E eu estarei sempre com vocês, até o fim dos tempos".

19 "Go ye therefore and make disciples of all the nations, immersing them in my name,
20 teaching them to observe all things whatever I have commanded you. And I will be with you always, to the end of the time."

100. 2021 (January): Sagrada Escrituras de Yauh, Eric Sidney Guerra Araújo, Portuguese:

19 *Ide, portanto, e fazei talmidim de todas as nações, realizando-lhes mikvah em Meu Nome.
20 Lhes ensinando a shomer todas as cousas, Que Eu vos tenho ordenado: e, eis que, Eu estou convosco sempre, até à consumação do olam hazeh. Assim Seja. ת
Ele Levantou De Fato!

* Na leitura original, quase sem questionamento, não consta a tardia adição trinitariana.

19 *Go therefore, and make talmidim of all the nations, doing them mikvah in My Name.
20 Teaching them to shomer all, Which I have commanded you: and, behold, I am with you always, even unto the consummation of olam hazeh. So be it. ת
He Did Up Indeed!

* In the original reading, almost without question, the late trinitarian addition does not appear.

Portanto, vão ... [Apenas assim de acordo com Evangelho de Mateus Shem Tob] e façam com que todos os povos da terra se tornem meus alunos, batizando a todos em meu nome [de acordo com antigas citações de Eusébio, antes do concílio de Nicéia] ... em nome do Pai, e do Filho, e do espírito de Santidade; [de acordo com os manuscritos gregos de Mateus achados até o momento] ... ensinando a eles a obedecerem a tudo que Eu ordenei a vcs. E assim, Eu estarei com vcs para sempre, até o fim do Sistema do mundo”.*

Therefore go ... [just so according to the Gospel of Matthew Shem Tob] and make my pupils all the peoples of the earth, baptizing everyone in my name [according to quotations from Eusebius, before the council of Nicaea] ... in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the spirit of Holiness; [according to the Greek manuscripts of Matthew found so far] ... teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And so, I will be with you forever, until the end of the worldly System.”*

19 “Mientas van a todas las naciones y discipulen. Purificándolos por inmersión, dedicándolos en mi Nombre.”

CONCLUSIÓN TARDIA

En el Nombre del Padre, del Hijo y de la Rujá dQudshá;

¿EN QUE CONSISTIA ESTA IMMERSION?

20 enséñenles a obedecer todas Mis palabras que les he mandado (de mi Torah). Yo estaré con ustedes todos los días, hasta el fin dâlmâ' [del siglo]. Améin”.

19 “While going to all the nations and discipling them. Purifying them by immersion, dedicating them in my Name.”

LATE CONCLUSION

In the Name of the Father, of the Son and the Ruhá dQudshá;

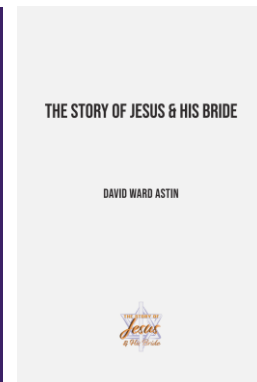

IN WHAT CONSISTED THAT IMMERSION?

20 teaching them to obey all My words that I have commanded you (of my Torah). I will be with you all the days, unto the end dâlmâ' [the age]. Améin”.

19 “Go therefore, make talmidim in all nations in My Name; [All quotations from Eusebius bring the text in this way, omitting any mention of Trinitarian immersion. Shem Tob also omits the Trinitarian formula, which is also a very relevant fact, considering that Shem Tob was found to be in the midst of anti-missionary work, and Trinitarian baptism would be a strong argument against emunah. The Catholic Church itself admits that the Trinitarian formula reflects a later addition. Lastly, we further know that all instances of immersion in the book of Maasei shelichim (Acts) are always in the Name of Yeshua, contradicting the Trinitarian text, and in fact proving to be a later addition.] 20 teaching them to observe all things that I have commanded you; and, behold, I am with you, all yomim, to the end of the age.”

19 “Portanto ide, fazei talmidim em todas as Nações em Meu Nome; [Todas as citações de Eusébio trazem o texto dessa forma, omitindo qualquer menção a imersão trinitária. Shem Tob também omite a fórmula trinitária, o que também é um fato muito relevante, considerando-se que Shem Tob foi achado em meio a uma obra antimissionária, e o batismo trinitário seria um forte argumento contrário à emunah. A própria Igreja Católica admite que a fórmula trinitária reflete acréscimo posterior. Por fim, sabemos ainda que todas as instâncias de imersão no livro de Maasei shelichim (Atos) são sempre em Nome de Yeshua, contradizendo o texto trinitário, e de fato provando ser uma adição posterior.] 20 ensinando-os a observar todas as coisas que Eu vos tenho mandado; e eis que Eu estou convosco todos os yamim, até a consumação dos séculos.”
